

“Be willing to have it so; acceptance of what has happened is the first step to overcoming the consequences of any misfortune.”

(William James, 1842-1910, US psychologist and philosopher.)