

“I’ve learned that everyone wants to live on top of the mountain, but all the happiness and growth occurs while you’re climbing it.”

(Andy Rooney, b.1919, American journalist, author and TV correspondent - the quote is featured here because it’s wonderful, and also because it is so often used without attribution. The quote seems to be from series of short quotes by Rooney entitled Enlightened Perspective, each beginning with “I’ve learned.”)
