

“People and things do not upset us. Rather, we upset ourselves by believing that they can upset us.”

(Albert Ellis, 1913-2007, American psychologist, philosopher and teacher, and developer of REBT, Rational Emotive Behavioral Therapy, from from Ellis' 1961 book, A Guide to Rational Living.)