“Bottom line: It’s not our life events (Actions) that themselves directly disturb us (produce unpleasant emotional Consequences). It’s our irrational demandingness, our shoulds, oughts, and musts (Beliefs) that largely do the job.”